The new intelligent cargo restraint system.

With iGurt from BPW, your cargo is now under control at all times. The smart restraint system even displays the tension during tightening, thus making it easy to attach the lashing straps correctly. The correct preload is continually monitored during travel. If one of the straps loosens, iGurt sends a warning message to the app on the driver's smartphone or tablet. You can therefore transport sensitive goods more reliably and safely and can benefit from a reduction in damage caused by overly tight lashing or due to the load tipping.

IMPRESSIVE BENEFITS

- iGurt is extremely straightforward to attach.
- You can reliably monitor the preload when tightening the straps and during travel.
- The app informs you of drops in the preload values.
- You reduce damage and the risk of accidents caused by inadequately secured goods.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

- Greater transparency and reduced down times.
- Battery replacement is simple and is only necessary after around a year.
- The iGurt app can be used as a stand-alone app or integrated in a telematics solution.
