Target the right item from more than 10,000 BPW original spare parts.

Durable, maintenance-free products are a prerequisite for the efficient operation of your trailer and a central part of our commitment as a systems and international mobility partner. For us, however, there is more to it than that: within the framework of regular, pro-active maintenance, and of course in cases of emergency, you can rely on our supply of original quality spare parts – worldwide. To speed up the ordering process, My BPW helps you to quickly identify the parts you need. Over the next few pages, we want to show you how easy this is.

2. Navigation on My BPW

You will find the multilingual spare parts search function in the navigation column under the headings Commercial vehicles parts lists, Commercial vehicle spare parts search, and Agricultural vehicles parts lists. We will give you user-specific access to these areas, as well as to the technical data sheets. In addition to the spare parts search function, My BPW also offers model test reports for download.

3. Spare parts search function

Each BPW original spare part's 10-digit stock code serves as the basis for the search. This code number can be found on the axle type plate which should be entered into the appropriate search field. You can enter the number with punctuation (e.g. 27.58.617.001), without punctuation (e.g. 2758617001), or with placeholders (e.g. 275861* or 27.*61.0* to display multiple BPW spare parts in tabular form).

As well as allowing you to search for individual BPW parts, My BPW also enables the display of additional information and the printing of PDF documents. If you click on the "+" button in the search field, any auxiliary parts related to the listed BPW items will also be displayed. Click on "-" to close the display again.

Code number	27.58.617.001
Axle type
Date of manuf. and no.
Butt welding no.

If you have any problems with the search, you can follow the search process step-by-step by clicking on the "Help" icon in the top left-hand side of the page.

4. Search results

When the spare parts list is displayed in the form of search results, you can open each part's material master display by clicking on it. This includes dimensions, item number, and other information, such as the number of parts you will need to effect a repair. In addition, a movable window will also display an image of the item, as well as a table listing auxiliary parts.

If one or more groups are displayed, click on each group to open a list of all the parts contained and a corresponding exploded-view drawing (click to enlarge). Click again on any spare part on this list to open the material master display.
